

October 2024

We were fortunate with the weather again; A glorious sunny mild late October morning saw us meet up at the Greyhound Inn in Aldbury. This was a slightly shorter walk than usual – about 5.5 miles but was hillier than most. The route took us north through the village and up towards Ivinghoe beacon before swinging back round on the ridgeway south over Paul's Knobb where we took a group photo with stunning 360 degree views, and Pitstone Hill before returning to Aldbury via Stocks Golf course.

Back at the Greyhound, the food was served promptly and efficiently, and was enjoyed by all
