

January 2025

This month's walk started and ended at the Cricketers in Sarratt.

The weather left something to be desired. Storm Herminia (named by the Spanish met office) had battered the UK just before we went on the walk resulting in wet, slippery ground.

From the Cricketers we headed across fields towards Micklefield Green. The M25 sat on our left hand side as we walked towards Sarratt Lane. Through some woodland we ended up in Solesbridge Lane. Back across the M25 and into Chorleywood House grounds. A quick visit to see some carved art work before heading down to the River Chess. Over the river, across New Road then unfortunately as always happens in Sarratt there was a steep hill to climb. Because it was heavy going the walk was cut a bit short as we headed back to the Cricketers for a welcome drink and lunch.
