

March 26th 2024 – Cholesbury Common (A Ridge Walk)

We were so lucky with the weather for our March walk, rain had been forecast but it turned out sunny and lovely and warm.

We had a very enjoyable 5.5mile walk starting on Cholesbury Common and following a ridge of the Chilterns across farmland with lovely views and skylarks flying above us.

The walk looped round and returned along a path beside a wood in the valley bottom of the ridge. We finished the walk walking past Cholesbury Windmill, a very impressive Windmill.

We lunched at The Full Moon, a pub well worth a visit.
